

Dear hiring manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the role advertised by Hansen Technologies, as outlined in your job description. With a bachelor's degree in computer science and electrical engineering from Hokkaido University, coupled with over three years of experience in mobile app development, software engineering, and team leadership, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your global team. My background in developing robust solutions across healthcare, video editing, and social networking platforms, aligns well with your needs for diverse environments and customer-centric software development.

At Hedgehog Medtech, Inc., I led the development of medical treatment apps, showcasing my ability to work within agile frameworks and deliver solutions that meet critical health and safety standards. My role as Product Manager at THE PHAGE, Inc., further honed my skills in project management, from conception through to delivery, emphasizing my aptitude for understanding and fulfilling business and law requirements. This experience is complemented by my technical prowess in Flutter, deepening my understanding and efficacy as a businessperson.

I am particularly drawn to this role at Hansen Technologies because of your commitment to empowering customers through innovation and technology. Your focus on energy, water/utilities, and telecommunications industries resonates with my passion for contributing to projects that have a significant impact on society and the environment. I am enthusiastic about the opportunity to bring my combination of technical skills and experience in agile environments to your team, helping to drive successful projects from ideation to implementation.

Your emphasis on diversity and global collaboration is especially appealing to me. I am eager to bring my background in working with cross-functional teams and my experience in diverse software development environments to Hansen Technologies. I am confident that my proactive approach to project management and my commitment to continuous learning and innovation will make a valuable contribution to your team.

I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my skills, experience, and passions align with the needs of Hansen Technologies. I am keen on contributing to your team's success and participating in the exciting projects that lie ahead. Thank you for considering my application. I am eager to learn more about the role and to explore how I can contribute to your team.

Sincerely,
Noriaki Handa
